*P3a. Description (Describe resource and its major elements. Include design, materials, condition, alterations, size, setting, and boundaries)

The Century Cast Plate, Inc. building is a large sheet metal-clad structure common in the industrial/manufacturing vernacular. The most interesting feature of this structure is the slanted roof sections, and the banks of windows contained in each section that is reminiscent of clerestory windows of early 19th century woolen mills in the northeast U.S. The structure is in good condition.

The setting is a mix of industrial and commercial. The building is located on the southwest corner of the intersection of Fruitland Ave. and S. Boyle Ave. The structure is surrounded by other light industrial buildings and railroad spurs.
